Price: $1,200,000

Availability: Immediate

Year Built: 1923 Front Nine Willie Park Jr.; 1991 Back Nine Geoffrey Cornish

Location: St. Johnsbury, Vermont

Description: Golf began in St. Johnsbury in 1923 when Willie Park, Jr., two-time winner of the British Open designed nine diverse, interesting and singular golf holes for the newly formed club. It would be the last of Park's 60 North American designs due to his ailing health. The installation of the greens was completed by his brother Mungo. In 1992 famed architect Geoffrey Cornish cradled the original nine in the embrace of nine peripheral holes. While the older holes require finesse, the new nine demand power. Bring your best up-and-down skills to par the outward half, display precise placement and clear thinking on the way home.

Active and loyal membership; totally turnkey opportunity.
